

Table of Contents

Introduction

Francesco Sironi, Maurizio Viano ix

SECTION 1. WISDOM AND KNOWLEDGE

An Epistemological Perspective on the Mesopotamian Wisdom Tradition

Giorgio Buccellati 5

Astronomy, Ṭupšarrūtu, and Knowledge in the Cuneiform World

Francesca Rochberg 21

Truth and Falsehood in Mesopotamia and Greece: Similarities and Differences

Francesco Sironi, Maurizio Viano 37

SECTION 2. SAGES AND PRACTITIONERS

Wise Man and Poet in Ancient Greece: Features and Overlaps

Massimiliano Ornaghi 69

King, Sage, Scribe, and Priest: Seleucid Uruk and Jerusalem in Perspective

Stéphanie Anthonioz 109

Female Advisors Between East and West

Jakub Kuciak, Sebastian Fink 127

The Rational Roots of Medical Science Between Greece and Egypt

Nicola Reggiani 143

Dance in Hittite Culture: Choreography and Setting

Stefano de Martino 153

SECTION 3. LITERATURE AND WISDOM TRADITIONS

The Limit of Transmission

Babylonian Wisdom Literature and Wisdom in Non-Cuneiform Literatures

Yoram Cohen 167

From Dialogue to Debate

Argumentative and Epic Discourse in Mesopotamian Literature Between II and I Millennium BCE

Simonetta Ponchia 187

Sumerian Proverbs as Wisdom Literature

Niek Veldhuis 203

Proverbs and Wisdom Traditions in Archaic Greek Culture

Andrea Ercolani 213

Proverbs and Gnōmai in the Epic of Gilgamesh

Bernardo Ballesteros 235

Law, Morality, and Subversion in Sumerian Prose Miniatures

Jana Matuszak 271